Battle of the Ages

Don't forget that, this morning, we have our monthly instalment of "Battle of the Ages", a hard fought competition between the different generations in the church. This morning we will see some gaming, as we enter the 1980s.

CCC@work and play

Find out about work, hobbies or causes that different people at CCC support or are involved with through this new column. To start things off, Ben Butcher, our Planet Editor, talks about his job(s).

What do you do for a job?

I'm still at school, pretending I'm working hard for my GCSEs.....at CCC, I do the Planet, go to youth, lead worship and try and share my extremely limited knowledge with the U11 footballers!

What does your job involve?

In regards to the Planet, I work closely with my computer, putting together articles that people send in. It can also involve a bit of stress, especially when there aren't enough bits to go in! However it's all worth it when it's finished, you can look at it and say "I did that!"

What do you enjoy most about what you do?

I enjoy seeing people read the Planet on a Sunday morning.....and I also like spending part of my weekend doing something that helps God's kingdom, whether that be preparing songs for the next day, doing the Planet, cheering on the Football team.....

Lionhearts slightly too strong

In weather that felt more apt for Cricket than for Football at Forster Park yesterday, our U11's went toe to toe with Lewisham Lionhearts (from Kings Church in Catford) for the local bragging rights. Forget the Milan derby, this was the main event yesterday.....

It soon became clear that this was going to be a hard-fought game, on a small pitch there wasn't much space for passing and movement, so physical prowess was going to be pivotal in the outcome of this game.

Despite Lionhearts having the best of possession and chances, we took the lead midway through the first half, Lionhearts didn't clear our corner properly, and a hopeful shot from the edge of the area by Nyhakeh took a wicked deflection, and beat the keeper.

However Lionhearts hit back straight away, leaving the game nicely poised at 1-1 heading towards halftime. But that wasn't the end of this half's drama, a stunning left-footed free kick from Joel left the keeper motionless as the ball flew into the top corner. Morale was high at half time, as we felt we could score more goals in the next 25 minutes.

However Lionhearts exploited downhill advantage well, and scored 3 goals in quick succession midway through the second half, and Catford heads dropped slightly. However battering ram striker Lewis got it back to 4-3, but we just couldn't get the equaliser before the final whistle blew. However this game was brilliant for the spectators, and there were many positives to take out of the match.

Prayer meeting

Prayer is of transcendent importance. Prayer is the mightiest agent to advance God's work. Praying hearts and hands only can do God's work. Prayer succeeds when all else fails.' so says EM Bounds, a Methodist minister in the late 19th and early 20th Century. Our monthly prayer meetings are opportunities for us to encourage one another in this essential work and to also enjoy being with one another and even more importantly, with God. During this season of our church life we are wanting our foundation, even more so, to be firmly rooted in Christ and guided by His Spirit. Do join us as we pray for the process of finding a new leader; hearing God on whether we should become a centre for Christians Against Poverty and mixing in worship throughout the evening. What a great combination. Hope to see you there, 8pm, Wednesday at The Point.

Goodbye to Barbara Coe

Do join us for lunch after church, next Sunday, 10th April, to say goodbye to Barbara.

Barbara has been such an influential part of so many of our lives for so long, she is going to be greatly missed. On 17th April, Barbara is moving to live near her family in Cumbria. Do pray for her and let's give her a great send off.

Bring enough food for yourself and some extra to share.
